

i am pro-life.
is that an issue?
i do not let it define me
because it is not a definition
it is a belief, a feeling.
a feeling of trust
trust in what you ask?
i trust in He who is ever-lasting unconditionally loving never failing.
He formed us in the womb
with a genius plan
of what our life would be.
He makes us to be great-
and who's to say,
that child in there
won't change the world.
it's not our place to make the decision.
we don't have to-
for the Lord knows what he is doing.
there is no storm He will let you walk in alone.
you are never
alone.
so choose life
because
if you get to live
so should they.
